Dr. Sal Silvestri Key Note: How Ultrasound Can Help Save Lives

By Javier Rosario, MD, FAAEM & Leah León, MD

Point-of-care ultrasound in emergency departments plays a big role in the diagnosis and treatment of patients. With minimal training and supervision, EMS providers can utilize this technology to make treatment decisions based on actual data rather than generalized algorithms. This lecture will touch on ultrasound knobology, B-lines & low ejection fractions, how to navigate difficult IV's and more.

2:00 PM-3:00 PM

Current Paradigms in the Prehospital Care of Emergent Injuries in Athletes

By Seth Smith, MD, CAQ-SM & Jason Zaremski, MD, CAQ-SM

Emergent athletic injuries receive significant media exposure, particularly when catastrophic outcomes occur. This session will review evidence-based approaches to managing athletic injuries, including exertional heat illness, concussions, exertional sickling and cervical spine injuries, with the goal of improving outcomes.

3:00 PM-5:00 PM

Skills: The Pregnant Patient: OB Complications & Abnormal Deliveries

Led by Ayanna Walker, MD & Christine Van Dillen, MD, FACEP

Take advantage of this skills lab to review one of the most high-risk but low-frequency events in the pre-hospital setting: OB emergencies. This lab will review emergencies specific to the pregnant patient, including OB complications, abnormal deliveries and more.

3:00 PM-5:00 PM

Skills: Ultrasound Techniques for EMS

Led by Jason Jones, MD, FACEP

Learn essential techniques for ultrasound in emergency care through hands-on training with simulators and live patients. Participants will learn how to identify specific cardiac, pulmonary and abdominal emergencies, and how to establish rapid vascular access with ultrasound guidance.

By Kenneth Scheppke, MD

This interactive session will review some of the timeliest EMS topics and cutting-edge trends from the annual "Gathering of Eagles." Topics will include head-up/gravity-assisted CPR and cardiac arrest resuscitation systems; the clinical impact of EMS bypassing primary stroke centers; the latest tools to combat the opiate crisis; using general aviation to assist EMS in times of natural disaster; the latest word on prehospital TXA and more.

9:30 AM-10:30 AM

ECG Case Studies: Lessons that Can Save Lives

By John O'Brien, MD, FACEP

Nothing is scarier than a sick patient with a strange ECG you can't quite understand. This lecture will open your eyes to the many wonderful and strange ways an ECG can facilitate rapid recognition and management of clinical problems such as arrhythmias, myocardial ischemia cases, toxicology issues, subtle findings and mimics of serious problems.

9:30 AM-10:30 AM

On the Flip Side: Prone Position Ventilation in Transport

By Jon Inkrott, RRT, RRT-ACCS

Prone position ventilation in the ARDS patient remains a solid treatment intervention in the ICU for moderate and severe ARDS. But when these patients fail to improve and need to be transferred to a higher center of care, is it safe to transport them in the prone position? We will discuss the controversy surrounding this topic and explore case studies of patients who remained prone or were turned supine prior to transport.

11:30 AM-12:30 PM

Tips & Tricks for Blue & Barely Breathing Baby

By Christina Bailey, RRT, NPS & Danielle Nelski, BSN, RN, C-NPT

Getting children to cooperate with respiratory intervention can be challenging. We will discuss meaningful airway and breathing interventions and how they can be performed in more tolerable ways for your patient. Presentations of respiratory illness in children and appropriate interventions will also be discussed.

11:30 AM-12:30 PM

Should We Push Dose (Pressors) Out The Door?

By David Olvera NRP, FP-C, CMTE

Hemodynamic monitoring and pressors are a hot topic in the pre-hospital setting. We will break down hemodynamic monitoring, examine push dose pressors and when to use them, and review current studies and evidence-based literature to determine if we should be using them in our setting.

1:30 PM-2:30 PM

Identifying & Treating PTSD, Depression & Suicide in Emergency Medicine & First Responders

By Todd Husty, DO, FACEP

PTSD, depression and suicide are increasing in emergency medical professionals, and first responders are especially unlikely to self-identify through standard methods. Dr. Sal Silvestri Key Note: How Ultrasound Can Help Save Lives

By Javier Rosario, MD, FAAEM & Leah León, MD

Point-of-care ultrasound in emergency departments plays a big role in the diagnosis and treatment of patients. With minimal training and supervision, EMS providers can utilize this technology to make treatment decisions based on actual data rather than generalized algorithms. This lecture will touch on ultrasound knobology, B-lines & low ejection fractions, how to navigate difficult IV's and more.

2:00 PM-3:00 PM

Current Paradigms in the Prehospital Care of Emergent Injuries in Athletes

By Seth Smith, MD, CAQ-SM & Jason Zaremski, MD, CAQ-SM

Emergent athletic injuries receive significant media exposure, particularly when catastrophic outcomes occur. This session will review evidence-based approaches to managing athletic injuries, including exertional heat illness, concussions, exertional sickling and cervical spine injuries, with the goal of improving outcomes.

3:00 PM-5:00 PM

Skills: The Pregnant Patient: OB Complications & Abnormal Deliveries

Led by Ayanna Walker, MD & Christine Van Dillen, MD, FACEP

Take advantage of this skills lab to review one of the most high-risk but low-frequency events in the pre-hospital setting: OB emergencies. This lab will review emergencies specific to the pregnant patient, including OB complications, abnormal deliveries and more.

3:00 PM-5:00 PM

Skills: Ultrasound Techniques for EMS

Led by Jason Jones, MD, FACEP

Learn essential techniques for ultrasound in emergency care through hands-on training with simulators and live patients. Participants will learn how to identify specific cardiac, pulmonary and abdominal emergencies, and how to establish rapid vascular access with ultrasound guidance.

8:30 AM-9:30 AM

Richard Slevinski Key Note: The Future of EMS

By Kenneth Schepke, MD

This interactive session will review some of the timeliest EMS topics and cutting-edge trends from the annual "Gathering of Eagles." Topics will include head-up/gravity-assisted CPR and cardiac arrest resuscitation systems; the clinical impact of EMS bypassing primary stroke centers; the latest tools to combat the opiate crisis; using general aviation to assist EMS in times of natural disaster; the latest word on prehospital TXA and more.

9:30 AM-10:30 AM

ECG Case Studies: Lessons that Can Save Lives

By John O'Brien, MD, FACEP

Nothing is scarier than a sick patient with a strange ECG you can't quite understand. This lecture will open your eyes to the many wonderful and strange ways an ECG can facilitate rapid recognition and management of clinical problems such as arrhythmias, myocardial ischemia cases, toxicology issues, subtle findings and mimics of serious problems.

9:30 AM-10:30 AM

On the Flip Side: Prone Position Ventilation in Transport

By Jon Inkrott, RRT, RRT-ACCS

Prone position ventilation in the ARDS patient remains a solid treatment intervention in the ICU for moderate and severe ARDS. But when these patients fail to improve and need to be transferred to a higher center of care, is it safe to transport them in the prone position? We will discuss the controversy surrounding this topic and explore case studies of patients who remained prone or were turned supine prior to transport.

11:30 AM-12:30 PM

Tips & Tricks for Blue & Barely Breathing Baby

By Christina Bailey, RRT, NPS & Danielle Nelski, BSN, RN, C-NPT

Getting children to cooperate with respiratory intervention can be challenging. We will discuss meaningful airway and breathing interventions and how they can be performed in more tolerable ways for your patient. Presentations of respiratory illness in children and appropriate interventions will also be discussed.

11:30 AM-12:30 PM

Should We Push Dose (Pressors) Out The Door?

By David Olvera NRP, FP-C, CMTE

Hemodynamic monitoring and pressors are a hot topic in the pre-hospital setting. We will break down hemodynamic monitoring, examine push dose pressors and when to use them, and review current studies and evidence-based literature to determine if we should be using them in our setting.

1:30 PM-2:30 PM

Identifying & Treating PTSD, Depression & Suicide in Emergency Medicine & First Responders

By Todd Husty, DO, FACEP

PTSD, depression and suicide are increasing in emergency medical professionals, and first responders are especially unlikely to self-identify through standard methods. This session will introduce a novel application for treating PTSD called telepsychology that may provide real solutions for first responders.

2:30 PM-3:30 PM

Maternal & Neonatal Emergencies: Managing the Maladies of Pre-Hospital Care

By Danielle Nelski, BSN, RN, C-NPT & Rachel Hinkle, MS, RNC-OB, C-EFM

"You Want Us to Transport What?" Concepts in Mechanical Circulatory Support Made Easy

By Ryan Dale, MSN, RN, CFRN, EMT-P

The utilization of both short- and long-term Mechanical Circulatory Support (MCS) devices has exploded over the past decade, but exposure, experience and comfort levels vary greatly across the EMS transport spectrum. This lecture will expose learners to these devices, along with hemodynamic concepts and principles.

FRIDAY, JULY 19:

Key Largo EMS Board of Directors
98600 Overseas Highway
Key Largo, FL 33037

Dear Key Largo EMS Board of Directors :

First and foremost, I would like to thank all of you for the opportunities that have been afforded to me by the Key Largo Ambulance Corps. The amount of skills and training I have received over the years are priceless. In the past year or so I have been so busy with the Key Largo Fire Department and my side company that I have been unable to meet the minimum shift requirements and for that I apologize. Please except this letter as my formal request to be reinstated to active membership status. I will work hard to accommodate the minimum requirements as stated in the membership guidelines.

Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend the business meeting on 5/14/19 where my reinstatement will be decided due to a prior engagement and I apologize in advance for my absence.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to be 'Chris Jones', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

A. Bungalows Fire

President Robinson reported that the fire department did a phenomenal job in fighting this fire.

Dawn DeBrule reported that at the Chamber of Commerce meeting the Bungalows' general manager and the food and beverage manager expressed their gratitude for the great job by all the first responders.

Thank you to Paul for providing food and drink. Markus reported that the Monroe County Battalion Chief congratulated the department on all their resources and also stating that it was a fully catered event.

Jim Lewanski was thanked for providing fuel and a backhoe.

President Robinson reported the fire is now under investigation. A loss statement has been prepared and an attempt may be made to recoup some of the approximate $22,000 cost from the insurance company for both fire and EMS.

B. Accounting Service/Fees

President Robinson explained that the District has tasked the department to reduce accounting fees. Tina Wyatt gathered information from three payroll firms and a prospective bookkeeper who agreed to an hourly rate of $60.00 per hour which is half of the current bookkeeper's hourly fee. After discussion Brenda Beckmann seconded by Tess Marra moved approval of giving the current accountant, Wendy Lopez the first opportunity to match the $60.00 per hour fee.
Motion carried.
